INTRODUCTION

«Combating corruption in Uzbekistan is directly linked to the innovative development of various sectors of the national economy and the improvement of the system for the rational and effective use of state budget funds. In this context, the introduction of modern mechanisms aimed at improving the quality of financial control plays a crucial role. As the President emphasized, 'Corruption is a very serious crime, and we must instill an uncompromising attitude toward it from early childhood, teaching our children to earn income only through honest work and entrepreneurship.' Ensuring transparency and openness in all decision-making processes within public administration is a key factor in preventing corruption. In this regard, modern financial control mechanisms — including digital, electronic, and public oversight tools — serve as essential instruments issues.»

Its legal framework is constantly being improved to prevent looting of public funds in education, health, culture, governance and other areas. The main function of financial control is that in the period of deepening economic conditions of the market economy, innovative forms of economic activity are carried out in the conditions of production, provision of services, the targeted expenditure of funds of the budget system, control over compliance of organizations financed from the budget with the national legislation, as well as the budgetary discipline.

The practice of financial control confirms that it is desirable to analyze their financial performance in budgetary organizations through special automated software products for the management of budgetary funds and the conduct of budgetary accounting. The effectiveness of financial control it is desirable to carry out monitoring with a wide application of remote control, using innovative information technology and uniform use of statistical and analytical conclusions included in the database. The need for financial control over the impact of reforms in the social economic context, the increasing number of non-profit organizations and the expenditure of gratuitous financial assistance of international organizations used in their activities. Also during the reforms, it is necessary to further improve the human factor, the implementation of financial control over compliance with the budget legislation, that is, in the effective use of funds of non-budgetary funds of budgetary organizations, which is intended to increase the activity of employees in reforms.

During the economic reforms, a systematic profile work is being carried out in order to further improve the system of effective and targeted use of the state budget, to ensure that the heads of budget organizations, financial funds are spent in strict compliance with the legislation. In the educational and medical system, there is a need to increase public control over the cost of budgetary funds, financing from the budget, improving accounting, strengthening the budget discipline in institutions designed by ministries and departments. Also, in order to prevent cases of violation of the budget legislation by intensively introducing modern information technologies and internationally recognized financial control standards into practice, the decree of the president of the Republic of Uzbekistan "on further improvement of the system of financing of medical and educational institutions and the system of state financial control" was adopted on August 21, 2017.

There are cases of violation of the rules of its use in spite of the cost of budgetary funds, the effective use of financial resources for the purpose of further development of the social sphere, the prophylactics, the violation of the discipline of looting material wealth, allowing for shortages, the cost estimate, the compilation of the State schedule and the execution, among others. In particular, in the financial control of the expenditure of budgetary and non-budgetary sums in educational institutions, estimates of revenues and expenditures, accounting documents, norms belonging to the sphere of accounting are the main sources of information supply. It therefore also relies on the availability of information base during financial control.

79 percent of the financial control measures carried out by the Ministry of Finance of the Republic of Uzbekistan in 2020 were carried out on the targeted use of budgetary funds, violation of the budget discipline in the amount of 81.7 billion soums, a deficit of monetary and commodity material resources was identified in the control measures. 57.4 billion soums (70 percent) of the illegally spent funds were restored to the relevant budgets as a result of the choratadbirs seen during the Monitoring events. It should be noted that the cases of delinquency in the expenditure of budget funds are Andijan (8,9 billion soums), Kashkadarya (8,2 billion soums), Tashkent (6,2 billion soums), Jizzakh (5,5 billion soums), Surkhandarya (5,4 billion soums), Namangan (4,6 billion soums), Fergana (4,4 billion soums), Tashkent City (7,9 billion soums) and the Republic of Karakalpakstan (5,5 billion. It is observed in the activities of organizations that receive funds from the budget. The results of the above analysis confirm that financial control over the cost of budgetary funds is necessary.

CONCLUSION

In the abstract, it should be noted that financial control is a systematic, systematic process that is formed as a result of the objective conclusions of highly qualified specialists. The effective expenditure of budgetary funds is an important factor in the effective implementation of economic reforms and the implementation of the social, economic indicators listed in the state programs and the fight against various manifestations of corruption.
